HEAT RESISTANCE

The PPSU material from which the product is made is characterised by its high heat resistance. As a result, you can sterilise the bottle without worrying about the plastic melting or deforming.

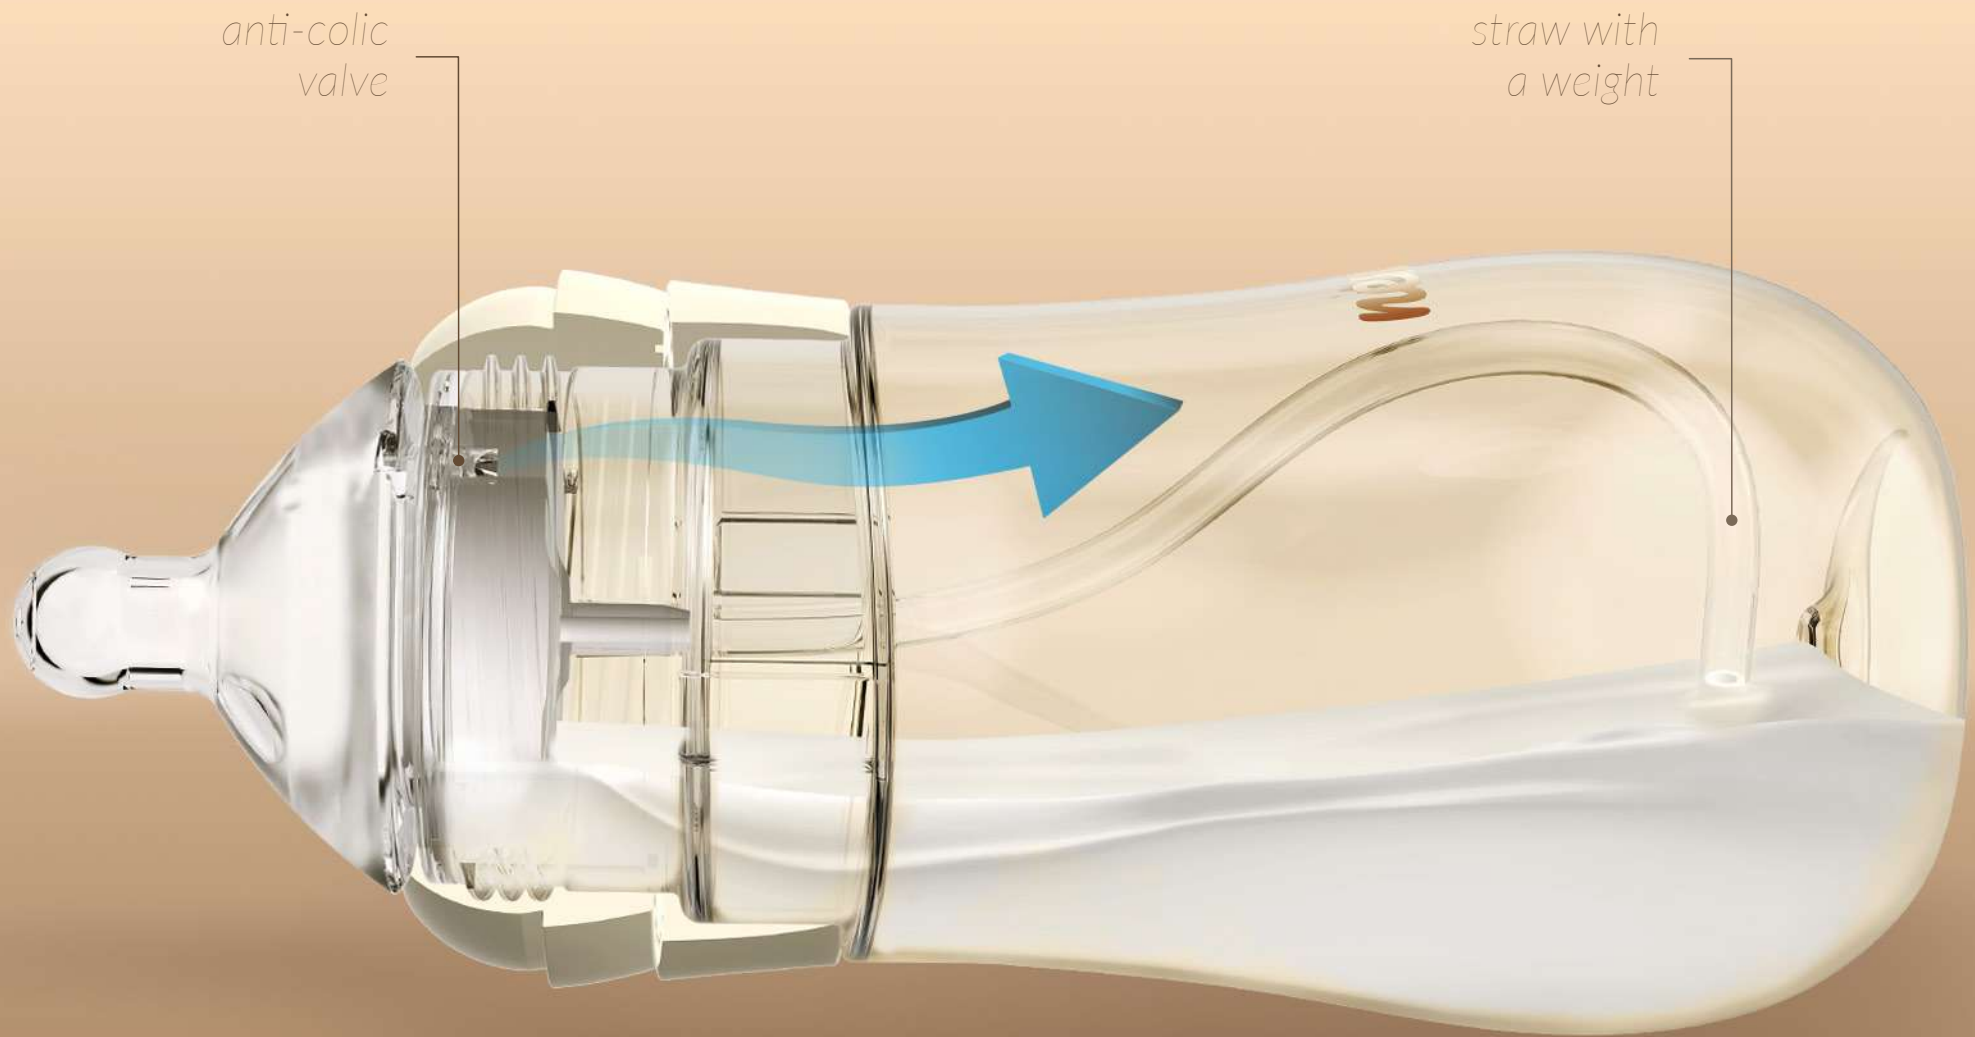

neno Premium

ANTI-COLIC TEAT

The teat has an extra hole to reduce the amount of air the baby swallows during feeding. This means less discomfort for the baby, such as painful colic or gas.

TEAT FILLED WITH MILK

The clever design of the Neno Mio prevents vacuum by preventing air from entering the teat. As a result, no matter what position the bottle is in, there is always milk in the teat, not air, and you can feed your baby without unnecessary interruption. This will help to reduce the risk of your baby having a painful colic.

A close-up photograph of a baby sitting in a stroller, drinking from a neno Premium bottle. The baby is wearing a light-colored, quilted jacket with a white fur collar and a small pink bow in her hair. The bottle is tilted, and the baby is holding it with both hands. The background is a blurred outdoor setting, suggesting the baby is in a stroller. The lighting is soft and natural, highlighting the baby's face and the bottle.

ABILITY TO DRINK FROM ANY ANGLE

The ability to drink from any angle is a great convenience. Whether your baby holds the bottle horizontally or tilts it, he or she will be able to quench their thirst.
