Freedom Series Breast Pumps

Motherhood means continuously balancing your baby's needs with your own exhaustion, household chores, work, and other responsibilities. Breast pumps from the Freedom series were created to give you some breathing space—literally and figuratively. With a compact, hands-free design, you can pump milk without using your hands, wherever you are. The devices work quietly, effectively, and discreetly, letting you focus on yourself.

Bottles and collection cups included

The Neno Camino Pro breast pump comes with two accessory sets: bottles for classic milk expression and breast milk collection cups allowing hands-free pumping. You can alternate between them, easily adjusting the pumping method according to your needs.

Three-phase pumping system

Camino Pro operates in three phases, mimicking your baby's natural sucking rhythm. It starts with stimulation, proceeds to deep milk expression, and then smoothly blends the two. This system effectively supports lactation, even when milk supply is lower.

I phase – stimulation mode

Gentle, quick movements stimulate milk flow.

II phase – deep expression mode

Slower but deeper and more intense motions help with milk expression.

III phase – mixed mode

An innovative combination of both modes is especially helpful when establishing lactation

Practical timer

A built-in timer helps you monitor each pumping session's duration without needing a phone or watch. If you need to pause, simply stop the device and resume pumping at your convenience.

Anatomic breast shields

The breast shields are soft, flexible, and fit comfortably against your breast. Their ergonomic shape provides a perfect seal without pressure, discomfort, or frequent adjustments.

Fits into a nursing bra

The spacious and perfectly shaped collection cups easily fit into standard nursing bras. You can pump milk while reading, working, or simply relaxing. The entire process is discreet, allowing you to maintain your daily rhythm.

The closed system prevents milk from entering the tubing or leaking externally, ensuring your milk remains safe from contamination by dust or harmful microorganisms.

Breast shield inserts in multiple sizes

No need to search for extra accessories—everything you need is right here! The set includes as many as seven breast shield reducers: four for the bottle-based shields (15, 17, 19, 22 mm) and three for the collection cups (17, 19, 21 mm). Easily select the right size for your comfort and effective pumping.

Large 240 ml collection cups

Greater capacity means more milk and fewer interruptions! The cups hold up to 240 ml of breastmilk, allowing you to pump exactly as much as you need—especially helpful when your lactation is well-established.

Touch panel controls

Thanks to the clear, intuitive touch panel, you can easily adjust modes and suction levels with just one hand. Everything is straightforward and easy to understand.

USB-C charging

Charge the breast pump using a standard USB-C cable—the same one you use for your phone or headphones. Convenient charging and a universal connector mean you can use the device wherever you are, without adapters or extra accessories.
