Heat therapy

When used warm, Neno Compresso helps relieve uterine contractions, relax tense muscles, and support recovery. Heat improves circulation and promotes comfort during postpartum recovery or convalescence.

Cold therapy

Neno Compresso reduces swelling, soothes pain caused by perineal tears or a C-section, and supports the healing of sensitive intimate areas. Cooling brings relief after childbirth, reducing puffiness and tension. It is also effective for more severe injuries and during recovery when the body needs extra care. For cold therapy, simply place Neno Compresso in the freezer.

Ergonomic design

The flexible structure of Neno Compresso adapts to the body's shape without causing pressure or discomfort. Its ergonomic form is designed specifically for intimate areas, ensuring a perfect fit. With compact dimensions of 24 × 7 cm, the compress is discreet and easy to use.

neno care series

Reusable

Neno Compresso is designed for long-term use. Just wash it after each application, and it's ready to use again. The set includes 16 soft covers, making it completely hygienic for intimate care.

Two heating methods

You can heat Neno Compresso in the microwave or in hot water. Choose whichever method works best for you to quickly prepare the pack and enjoy soothing warmth whenever you need it.

neno care series

Double relief

The set includes two compresses, so you can soothe different areas of the body at the same time or keep one ready while the other is cooling or heating. This means double convenience and faster recovery exactly where you need it.

Relief for Headaches

Neno Compresso is also effective in easing headaches and migraines. Used cold, it helps reduce tension, constricts blood vessels, and provides pain relief. Simply place the cooled compress on your forehead, temples, or neck. Thanks to its flexible design and safe materials, Neno Compresso adapts to the shape of your body, bringing fast comfort and soothing relief.
