6in1

The Neno Vivo is a multifunctional device that makes preparing daily meals, sterilising accessories and heating milk quick and convenient. This gives parents more time to spend with their baby or to relax.

Heating of milk

The device heats natural breast milk to the right temperature (around 37°). This way you can be sure that it does not lose any of the valuable nutrients that are essential for baby's development.

Sterilisation

Sterilising baby products helps to maintain good hygiene during use. Doing this regularly will protect your little one from coming into contact with bacteria and germs that can be harmful to their health.

Heating food in jars

If you want your child's lunch to retain its flavour and nutritional value, use the safe heating mode, which ensures that food does not burn and does not need to be cooked with additional utensils.

Defrosting

The multi-functional device thoroughly defrosts solid foods and milk stored in bags.. This solution eliminates the need for the more time-consuming and inconvenient water bath method.

Temperature maintenance

The keep warm function comes in handy when you want to prepare a meal in advance. The Neno Vivo keeps food warm despite the time lapse, so it is always ready to eat.

Fast heating

This mode is ideal for those moments when every second counts. With the Neno Vivo, you can cook dinner for a child or heat water in just a few minutes.

A hand is shown placing a clear plastic breast pump part into the top of a white, cube-shaped sterilizer. The sterilizer has a control panel on the front with several icons and the brand name 'neno' in gold. In the background, there is a bowl of red fruit and a white mug with a gold rim and handle, filled with a frothy beverage. The scene is set on a white marble countertop.

Comfortable use

With the Neno Vivo, you can sterilise the parts of a double breast pump in one go. This is possible thanks to the device's spacious body, which can also accommodate two bottles or two jars at the same time.

Bottle compatibility

The universal steriliser/warmer is compatible with a wide range of bottles, so you don't have to worry about using models with different capacities and heights on a daily basis.

Touch-screen control panel

The easy-to-read touch-screen control panel provides intuitive operation and quick access to all functions and settings.

Elegant design

The Neno Vivo is not only a practical multi-functional device, but also a stylish accessory with a snow-white casing that will blend in with the interior of any modern kitchen.
